Setting: Ted's house.

(AT RISE: H.B. sits UCS twiddling his thumbs, sighing, making bored noises. He perks as shouting is heard off SR.)

TED: (Off SR, shouting.) Me? You're the one who won't listen to reason. You're the one running away from your problems. Yeah, they're half my problems and half yours. (Entering SR, carrying books) Go ahead. Walk away. Just remember, I'm the one who stayed. Have a nice day. (Throws books down. Mutter.) You'll be back. I hope. (Paces a few steps, cooling off.) Now what? (Sits and buries HIS face in his hands.)

H.B.: Ted? You need help, Ted?

TED: (Ignores H.B. Looks upward.) I need help, God.

H.B.: You're going to the right person. “Cast your cares on the Lord, for he cares for you.”

TED: (Still praying without listening to H.B.) You're the only one who can help me.

H.B.: (Proud) That's right, Ted. “God is our refuge and strength, an ever present help in...”

TED: (Rises. Cuts HIM off. TED doesn't see or hear him.) I feel so confused. I know I love Angela, but we're so different. I need you to teach me to understand her, to get along with her.

H.B.: (Steps around to HIS front.) “Your word is a lamp unto my feet and a light...”

TED: (Turns and steps away.) Why does everything have to happen at once? Argue with Angela at school. Fight with Dad at home. Hate my step-mom. Fail geometry. What am I gonna do? (Stops, looks up.) You're the only one who understands.

H.B.: Well, Ted, you need some solid principles to answer those questions. I happen to have a few ...
TED: God, I need some answers.
H.B.: Like I said. You've come to the right place. If you'll just take a look at these verses...
TED: I've been asking you every day. Why don't you answer me?
H.B.: Hello!

(H.B. waves his hands before TED'S eyes, but Ted never notices him.)

TED: I can't handle this alone. You gotta show me the way.

(H.B. turns TED'S head to meet his own face, but Ted looks past him.)

H.B.: Yo, Teddy! I'm here!
TED: Give me a sign.
H.B.: What am I? A shelf ornament?
TED: Show me your way.
H.B.: (Whistles.) Are you deaf or what? "Behold He stands at the door and knocks."
(KNOCK at the door. TED answers.) Not that door.

(JASON and his book S.A.S.Q. enter.)

TED: Jason, what's up?
JASON: I just saw Angela. She's pretty upset. What happened?
S.A.S.Q.: (Slinking over to H.B.) Hi, big boy.
H.B.: What are you doing here?
S.A.S.Q.: Just trying to help.
TED: Jas, I don't know what to do. We just keep fighting, you know. I keep praying about it, but nothing changes.
JASON: I think she feels like you're really stressed, and you're taking it out on her.
TED: What am I supposed to do? My dad's on my back all the time. My step-mom is a psycho. They're driving me nuts.
S.A.S.Q.: (Moves toward TED.) Poor Ted.
H.B.: Stay away from him.
S.A.S.Q.: Why? You're not helping him much. Maybe I can.
JASON: I brought you something that's helped me a lot.
TED: Not another book.
H.B.: Don't listen to him.
JASON: It's not just a book. (Brings S.A.S.Q. over to HIM.) It's a commentary on life. I've read it twice and I keep it with me all the time. It's really gotten me through a lot.
TED: (Looking HER over.) It looks interesting.

H.B.: Don't judge her by her cover.

JASON: It's called "Selfish Answers to Selfish Questions."

H.B.: "A time will come when men will not put up with sound teaching. Instead, to suit their own desires, they will turn to teachers who say what they want to hear. They will turn away from the truth and ..."

S.A.S.Q.: (Clamps HER hand over HIS mouth.) H.B., relax. Your pages are ruffling.

TED: (Getting excited about the book) I can't believe this. I was just praying about this, and then you come in.

H.B.: Devilish coincidence, Ted.

TED: God sure works in mysterious ways.

S.A.S.Q.: (Smiles at H.B.) Doesn't He, though?

TED: I feel better already.

JASON: Wait till you read this baby.

H.B.: Don't go by feelings, Ted. It's a roller coaster ride. "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding." "There's a way that seems right to a man, but its way ends in death."

S.A.S.Q.: (Massaging H.B.'s shoulders.) You're ruffling again. You know, you and I could make a great team.

H.B.: Stay away! If anyone adds to or takes away from this book, God will bring on him...

S.A.S.Q.: Close the book, H.B. Nobody's listening.

(JASON and TED are at the door.)

JASON: I gotta run. Call me and let me know what you think. (Exits.)

TED: Sounds good. (Returns to S.A.S.Q. HE looks her over, flipping through her pages.)

H.B.: (To TED with conviction.) "All scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the man of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work."

(As HE speaks, the OTHER TWO leave arm in arm. S.A.S.Q. looks back with a smirk.)

H.B.: Go ahead. Leave. Just remember, I'm the one who stayed. Have a nice day. (Mutters) You'll be back. I hope.
